Key Takeaways

Fiberglass (FRP) cable trays in El Salvador typically cost between $10 and $50 per meter, depending on specifications and installation requirements.

Price Range and Factors

The cost of fiberglass cable trays (FRP) varies based on several factors: Material and Design: FRP trays are more expensive than steel or aluminum due to their corrosion resistance and durability, especially in aggressive environments. Prices generally range from $10 to $50 per meter depending on size, ladder or solid-bottom design, and environmental specifications. Installation Complexity: High ceilings, difficult access, or complex routing can increase labor costs, which may affect the overall price per meter.

Accessories: Supports, brackets, connectors, and other installation components add to the total cost. Local Market Conditions: Prices in El Salvador may vary slightly due to shipping, import duties, and local labor rates, but suppliers like Brilltech Engineers and Jeetmull Jaichandlall offer competitive pricing for high-quality trays.

Advantages of FRP Trays

Corrosion Resistance: Ideal for humid or chemically aggressive environments.

Durability: Long lifespan with minimal maintenance. Lightweight: Easier to handle and install compared to steel.

Safety: Non-conductive, reducing electrical hazards.

Local Suppliers

Several manufacturers and suppliers in El Salvador provide fiberglass cable trays:

Brilltech Engineers: Offers a variety of sizes and styles, including fiberglass options, with installation support and design assistance. Jeetmull Jaichandlall: Known for competitive pricing and global supply, including FRP trays.

Saving Tips

Bulk Orders: Ordering in larger quantities can reduce the per-meter cost. Simplified

Design: Using perforated or standard ladder trays instead of custom designs can save 10–15%. Local Sourcing: Purchasing from local suppliers reduces shipping and import fees.

In summary, for a typical project in El Salvador, expect fiberglass cable trays to cost $10–$50 per meter, with the final price influenced by tray specifications, installation complexity, and supplier choice.
