Key Takeaways

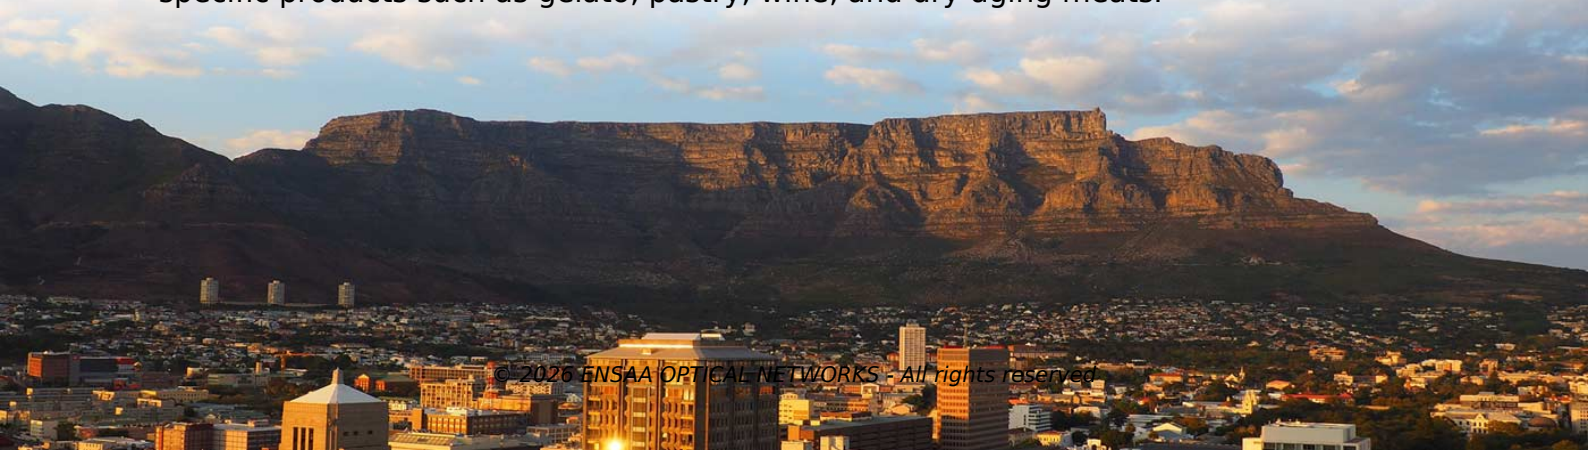

Leading manufacturers of upgraded cold aisle display cases include Dauphinais, TeknaLine, Schweitzer Group, and Ascobloc, offering energy-efficient, customizable, and sustainable refrigeration solutions.

Key Manufacturers and Offerings

Dauphinais specializes in custom refrigerated display cases and counters for grocery, bakery, fish, and cheese shops. They provide refurbishing and reconditioning services, energy-efficient solutions, and innovative features like nebulization to keep perishable foods fresher while reducing waste. Their products are designed for easy installation and optimized product visibility, suitable for stores without external compressor infrastructure.

Tekna

Line offers tailor-made refrigerated display cases, showcases, and counters with a focus on design, technology, and artisanal presentation. Their collections cater to specific products such as gelato, pastry, wine, and dry-aging meats.

Tekna

Line emphasizes high-quality materials, in-house design, and collaboration with food and hospitality professionals to create functional and aesthetically pleasing cold aisle solutions. Schweitzer Group provides a full range of refrigerated display cases, including plug-and-play air-cooled units and waterloop-ready systems. Their offerings include multideck cases, island units, self-service towers, and flexible drop-in units, all designed for maximum visibility, energy efficiency, and adaptability to various retail environments.

Ascobloc manufactures refrigerated show cases that maintain optimal temperatures while presenting food and beverages attractively. Their solutions focus on freshness, product appeal, and reliable temperature control, suitable for professional food retail settings.

Features to Consider

Energy Efficiency: Many upgraded cases meet Ecodesign standards and use low-refrigerant systems. Customization: Options for size, color, lighting, and modular configurations. Sustainability: Some manufacturers offer eco-friendly insulation, natural refrigerants, and food-preservation technologies.

Ease of Installation: Plug-and-play or remote compressor options for stores with limited infrastructure. Product Visibility: Glass designs, rear-loading options, and ergonomic layouts enhance display and accessibility. These manufacturers provide a range of solutions for businesses seeking modern, efficient, and visually appealing cold aisle display cases suitable for various retail applications.
