P Husky Cable Tray & Cable Bus, Creative Composites Group, PUPCO, EATON, ABB, Southwire: These U. S.-based manufacturers provide a variety of open cable tray solutions for commercial and industrial projects.

Key Considerations

Open cable trays, such as ladder and perforated types, are preferred for heavy-duty applications because they allow better ventilation, heat dissipation, and easy maintenance. Brands like Atkore, Chalfant, and Spina Group are recognized for their durability, compliance with international standards, and modularity, making them suitable for large-scale industrial installations. These manufacturers also provide accessories, junctions, and covers to ensure complete cable protection while maintaining the flexibility of open tray systems.

Choosing a brand depends on project requirements, material preferences (stainless steel, galvanized, or fiberglass), and installation environment.
